President of the National Organization of Nurse Practitioner Faculties on
NONPF's View of the Practice Doctorate in Nursing

Tuesday, April 19, 2005
3:00 - 5:00 ET

Dr. O'Sullivan recommends that participants review the following Web-based resources in advance of the conference call.

NONPF Practice Doctorate Resource Center - www.nonpf.org/cdhome.htm

NONPF developed this Web-based center as a resource to NP educators and other advanced practice nurse clinicians and educators. The NONPF leadership has demonstrated a commitment to sharing information as it becomes available with the NONPF membership and other interested parties. Three sections of the resource center have available various useful documents.

NONPF Perspective

NONPF has not developed a single, comprehensive position statement. Instead, NONPF has a variety of Board statements and recommendations brought forth from the NONPF Practice Doctorate Task Force. Materials available include:

Teleweb

In November 2002, NONPF offered a Teleweb seminar entitled "The Clinical Doctorate in Nursing: Future or Fringe." Presented by Lucy Marion, Katherine Crabtree, and Diane Viens, this seminar provided an overview of the clinical (practice) doctorate movement, including an historical account, current events among leading organizations, and the NONPF Board vision of how to advance new educational paradigms. Slides from this seminar are available on this page, along with a link to the archived version of the Teleweb.
