ANA to Release 3rd Edition of Scope & Standards of Practice for Nursing Administration

SILVER SPRING, MD – The American Nurses Association (ANA) is pleased to announce the long awaited release of its 3rd edition of Nursing Administration: Scope & Standards of Practice on March 31. Past editions have been widely regarded among nursing leadership as invaluable tools for professional development. The latest volume is also a highly recommended resource for ANA’s credentialing arm, the American Nurse Credentialing Center’s certification examination in Nursing Administration and the Magnet Hospital application process. Meeting these standards of care is a requirement to receive Magnet Recognition.

The diverse frameworks of practice and distinct spheres of influence and authority of the nurse administrator are key elements of this newly revised third edition. It defines the scope and various levels of practice for nursing administration; outlines qualifications for these roles across all settings; and provides standards of care and professional performance for this complex nursing specialty.

Review copies for educators and press copies for media contacts are available upon request by contacting Francine Bennett at francine.bennett@ana.org. Educators should include name of school, contact information, course/program title and student enrollment in course using the book. Press should include name of publication, organization, reviewer name and address information including phone and email address.
