ANA LAUNCHES EBOOKS OF TWO FOUNDATIONAL TEXTS

SILVER SPRING, MD – ANA announces the long awaited release of the electronic versions of two of its most popular titles. ANA’s newly revised Nursing’s Social Policy Statement: The Essence of the Profession (2010) and the Guide to the Code of Ethics for Nurses: Interpretation and Application (2008) is now available as fully searchable PDFs. As an added benefit, ANA eBooks can be read on Kindle, Sony iPad and other ereader devices that support the PDF format.

Nursing’s Social Policy Statement: Essence of the Profession

A fully searchable PDF (see below for all e-book features) of this in-depth fully updated edition of an enduring ANA classic defines nursing’s value and accountability to society. The book’s singular contribution is its description of the nursing profession and its essential elements; social context and contract, definition of nursing, authority for practice, nursing’s knowledge base, scope and standards of practice, and regulation of practice.

These elements have been updated to include advances in nursing practice and delineate the profession’s long-standing dedication to providing and improving health care to all.

Guide to the Code of Ethics for Nurses: Interpretation and Application

A fully searchable PDF (see below for all e-book features) of an essential resource for nursing classrooms, in-service training, and wherever nursing professionals use ANA’s Code of Ethics for Nurses with Interpretive Statements in their daily practice. Each chapter discusses a single Code provision,

The ANA is the only full-service professional organization representing the interests of the nation's 3.1 million registered nurses through its constituent member nurses associations, its organizational affiliates, and its workforce advocacy affiliate, the Center for American Nurses. The ANA advances the nursing profession by fostering high standards of nursing practice, promoting the rights of nurses in the workplace, projecting a positive and realistic view of nursing, and by lobbying the Congress and regulatory agencies on health care issues affecting nurses and the public.
